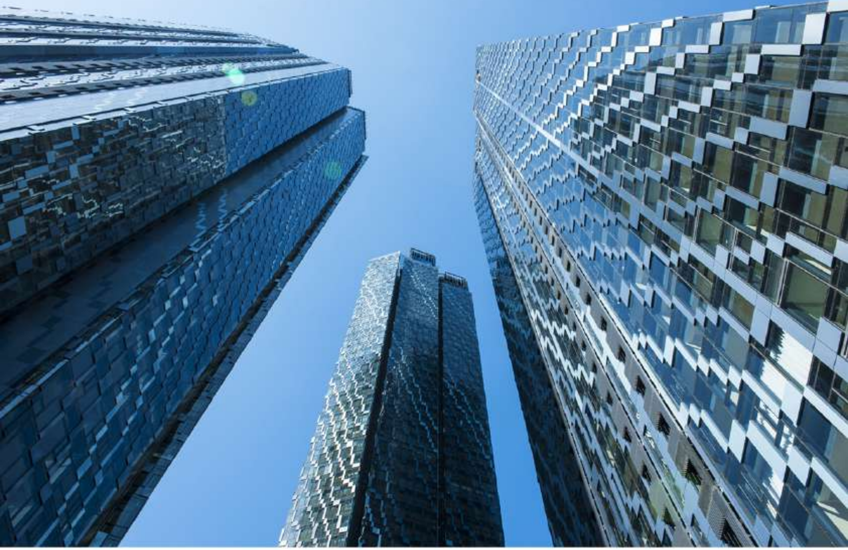
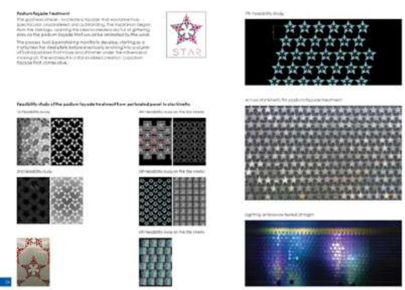
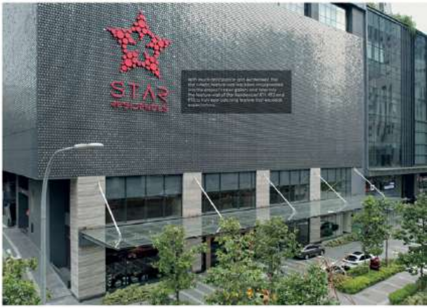
Star Residences

Jalan Yap Kwan Seng, Kuala Lumpur

The concept of "Meteor Shower" adopted on the façade of the 57-storey high-end residential towers is inspired by the urban life culture and night lifestyle in Kuala Lumpur and the lights of the urban landscape.







The idea is interpreted through the utilisation of Mondrian-inspired patterns combined with a mixed-use of coloured metal cladding and tinted glass with strategically designed LED lights, the façades then become the distinctive contemporary feature of the project.

EXTERNAL DESIGN (ARCHITECTURAL THEME)

The external architectural theme of Star Residences embodies a luxurious ambiance akin to a 5-star W Hotel concept, creating an iconic gateway to opulence, elegance, and bespoke luxury. This concept seamlessly intertwines with a contemporary framework, resonating with timeless allure that harmonizes effortlessly with the metallic aesthetic of the Petronas Twin Towers in KLCC.

In collaboration with Veritas Architects, the architectural design philosophy embraces clean lines, contemporary aesthetics, and a chic urban sensibility. It seeks equilibrium between a timeless urban structure and an avant-garde masterpiece. The exterior showcases a harmonious fusion of materials – wood, metal, natural stones, and concrete fins – forming a captivating interplay of contrasting elements. Innovative structural features, mesmerizing LED light displays, and captivating art installations further elevate the design's richness.

Thoughtful integration of waterscapes and green elements enhances the development's expressive characteristics. Merging with functional aspects, this design ensures a Gross Floor Area (GFA) efficiency of at least 80%. This architectural creation is envisioned to sustain an enduring sense of style, captivating the admiration of young elite professionals seeking a distinct and fashionable urban experience.

The final design emerged through a collaborative process with Veritas Architects, involving extensive studies, analyses, and experimentation. The exterior of Star Development exudes a lively and captivating persona, attracting patrons throughout the day and night. It stands as a timeless architectural marvel, juxtaposed against the backdrop of the Petronas Twin Towers, while imparting an inviting and vibrant atmosphere to its immediate surroundings.

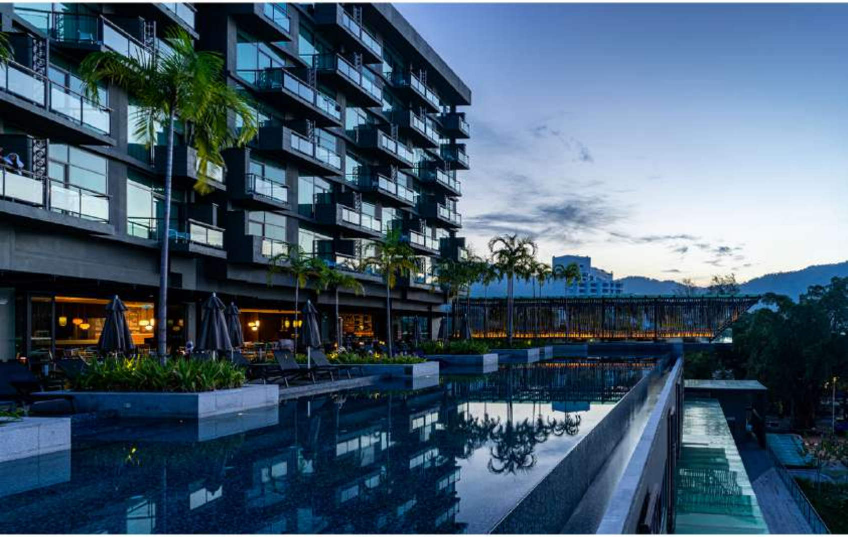
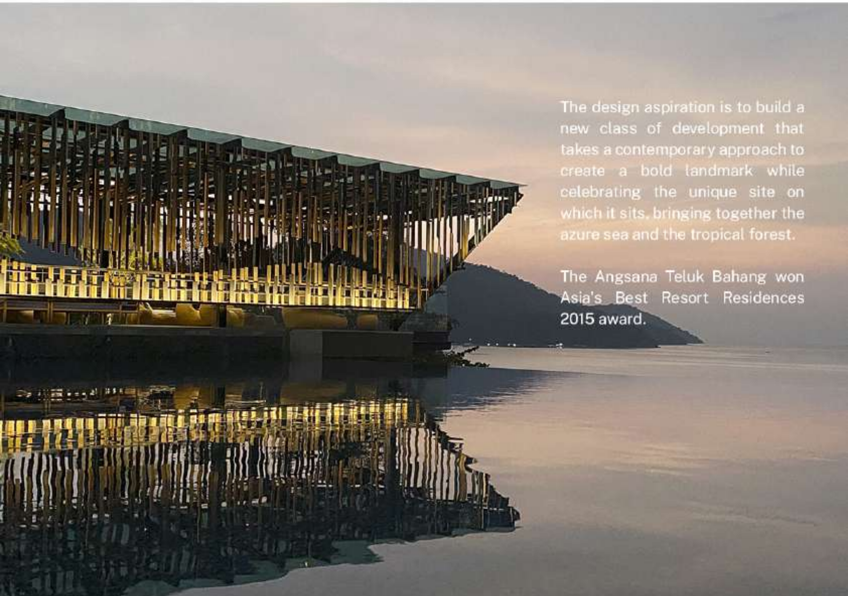
This project was developed by Symphony Life and completed in 2020.

Angsana Resort, Spa and Apartments
Teluk Bahang, Penang

Inspired by the Peranakan traditional card game called 'Cherki', façade screens with intricate motifs are incorporated to add layers into the spaces and create a play of light and shadow to this hospitality project in Penang.



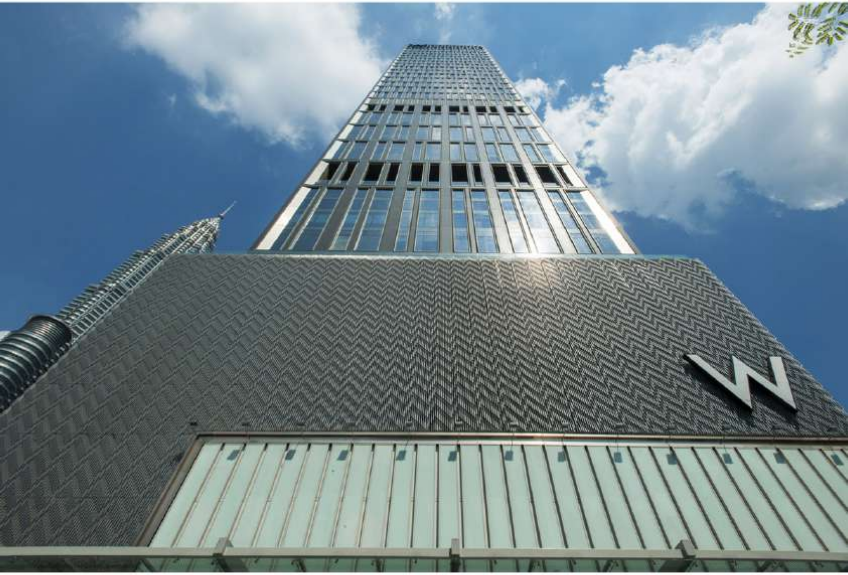


The design aspiration is to build a new class of development that takes a contemporary approach to create a bold landmark while celebrating the unique site on which it sits, bringing together the azure sea and the tropical forest.

The Angsana Teluk Bahang won Asia's Best Resort Residences 2015 award.

W Hotel and Service Apartments
Jalan Ampang, Kuala Lumpur

Making a commentary about the street wall of Jalan Ampang, the building is recessed from Jalan Ampang's street wall, to create a plaza and a more generous drop-off area in front of W Hotel.



For this high-rise mixed-use development, façade treatments are determined according to the needs of the particular program.

For example, the hotel façade has more glass per surface area than the residential apartments. Nonetheless, the drop-off areas are shared between the hotel and the residential apartment. Therefore, the façade expresses the sequence of programs as one moves through the building. A pool deck on the 12th floor is orientated towards the rear of the building, away from the traffic noise of Jalan Ampang.

This project was developed by Tropicana Bhd and completed in 2020. It was designed in collaboration with SOM, USA.

Saloma Link

Kampung Bharu - KLCC, Kuala Lumpur

Taking inspiration from the cherished Sirih Junjung, a symbolic leaf exchanged during Malay weddings to signify unity, the Pintasan Saloma goes beyond being just an architectural marvel.

It embodies a ceremonial embrace, intricately weaving together the fabric of two distinct locales: KLCC and Kampong Bharu. This convergence of the Sirih Junjung tradition into architectural design births a one-of-a-kind architectural façade.

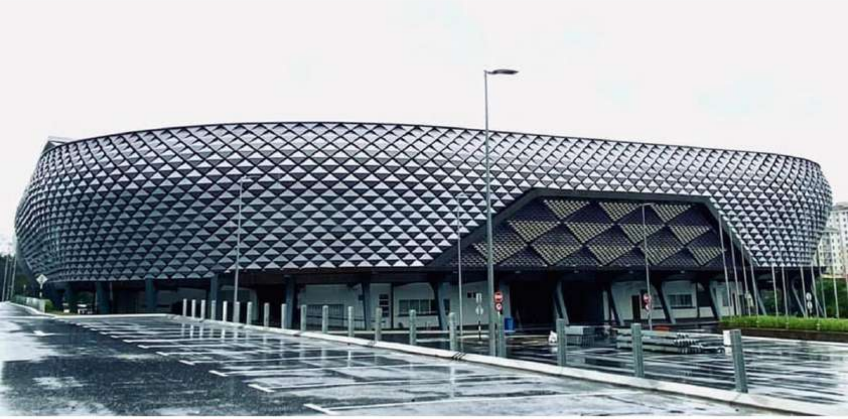
The Pintasan Saloma is a pedestrian bridge opened to the public in February 2020 in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. The Pintasan Saloma lands at Kampong Bharu creating a small elevated platform that frames the scenic view of the vibrant KLCC, its Petronas Twin Towers and other major city landmarks, but also the future of Kampong Bharu.

Larkin Arena

Johor Bahru, Johor

The geometric motif, repeated in the façade and structure of the building, is derived from ornamentation found in traditional Johorean houses. The motif of the ornamentation is abstracted and re-utilized in the design using contemporary methods and materials.



The Larkin Arena is an oval-shaped indoor stadium located in Larkin, a northern suburb of Johor Bahru. It is designed to showcase sporting events, theatre and musical performances.

The stadium was designed for Johor Corp. and completed in 2020
